

10 REASONS WHY YOU Should HAVE Brain Surgery

You can start comparing things with brain surgery,
“Compared to brain surgery _____ isn’t bad.”

You win the “my scar is better than your scar” battle.

You don’t need to cook because, “I’m not hungry!”
Everyone else will fend for themselves.

You are able to watch your favorite movies over and over again, most of the time with you eyes closed.

You are able to save on your power bill because the lights are turned off and the drapes are drawn. Why you ask? “It’s too bright!”

You have a free pass to yell at everyone but they are not allowed to yell at you because, “It’s too loud!”

You can stay in your comfortable pajamas all day long because you don’t need to wash your hair AND you are just going to lay on our bed or couch anyway.

You can blame everything on the hole in your head.

You are secretly in charge of everything that goes on around you without your opinion even being asked.

You can use, “That hurts my head!” to get out of absolutely anything.
